EVERYDAY
SECURITY

We invite you to view, experience, and learn more about Electronics Line's everyday security solutions at our stand at IFSEC. This is set to be one of our most exciting IFSECs with the launch of three major developments – new EL Smartphone Application for remote management, new Video Verification solution and our new Two-Way Wireless iConnect panel, detectors and accessories.

EL Smartphone Application

We are proud to launch our dedicated EL Smartphone Application, designed for use with our GPRS and IP based solutions. This latest application offers end-users state-of-the-art remote management features with the convenience and intuitive use of a smartphone application. Moreover, with our new Two-Way Wireless range, the Smartphone Application also offers video verification, for complete peace of mind at all times.

Video Verification

This year, we will showcase our Video Verification solution, based on EL's proprietary new Two-Way Wireless PIR Camera and the EL Application Server. EL's new video verification features offer users and providers real-time snapshots of an event upon an alarm or following user-generated activation. This enables users and monitoring services to carry out virtual inspections, verify and assess events, and determine the most appropriate response for enhanced security.

Two-Way Wireless iConnect

iConnect, our flagship security and control solution, is now available with our proprietary two-way wireless RF technology. This latest development, to be shown at IFSEC, enables the use of Two-Way Wireless PIR Cameras for event triggered video images and clips, as well as video verification. The new Two-Way Wireless iConnect and accompanying peripherals will be available on show at our stand.

Upgrading Everyday Security

Visit us at Hall 4, Stand D10, together with RISCO Group, to view and learn more about our latest developments for everyday security. We will be on the stand throughout the show but if you would like to pre-schedule a meeting, please contact us at ifsec@electronics-line.com

We look forward to seeing you there!
